Murder probe after man gunned down

BY SUE WEBB

editor@onemk.co.uk

POLICE have launched a murder investigation following the shooting of a man yesterday.

Officers were called to Osprey Close in Eaglestone at 5.12am by the ambulance service following reports that a man had been shot.

The victim was taken to Milton Keynes University Hospital and was declared dead at 7.03am.

He is yet to be formally identified. It is understood two brothers, believed to be in their late 20s, occupy the property where the victim is thought to have lived.

One shocked resident, who wished to remain anonymous, said: "I've lived around here all my life and I can't believe this has happened. It's such a quiet, nice area."

A neighbour who lives opposite the area added: "I didn't hear anything. When did it happen? There were police everywhere this morning."

A taxi driver, who often works in Eaglestone, said: "I can't believe that has happened - what is happening to the world? That just doesn't happen here."

Officers have put in place a large exclusion zone around the street while investigations are carried out.

It is believed that the offender(s) fled the scene and no arrests have yet been made.

Senior investigating officer Det Ch Insp Mike Lynch, of the Major Crime Unit, said: "We are in the process of investigating the incident and a murder investigation has been launched."

"Members of the public might see an increased number of officers in the area while investigations into this incident take place."

Investigation: Scenes of crime officers and police in Osprey Close in Eaglestone yesterday where a man had been shot

"I would like to reassure the public that a full and thorough investigation is launched while we locate the person or persons responsible."

"I would like to appeal for anyone who thinks they might have any information about this incident to get in touch by calling the non-emergency number 101."

"If you do not want to speak directly to the police, you can contact the independent charity Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111. No personal details are taken, information is not traced or recorded and you will not go to court."

Police were also called to Osprey Close by a member of the public just before midnight yesterday to reports of a disturbance.

Officers attended the scene within 15 minutes of the call but could not find those responsible.

A police spokesman told OneMK: "At this time, Thames Valley Police is not treating this incident as related to the murder investigation."

Students learn how to shake it up at the cocktail bar

RESIDENTS from MacIntyre charity were all shook up when they were taught to make cocktails by the bar staff at Revolución de Cuba in the Theatre District.

The 'students' were taught the art of mixology, how to pour the perfect measure, presentation and the all-important 'special touches' of Revolución de Cuba service - and after four hours of shaking, mixing and juggling, MK Mayor Cllr Steve Coventry was the bar's VIP guest and sampled some of the concoctions.

He said: "The evening was absolutely fantastic."

"Revolución de Cuba had put in an awful lot of thought into running the event, with some special cocktails designed especially for the evening."

"The MacIntyre students had a lovely evening making cocktails which were amongst the best I've ever tasted."

Buszy to host night shelter

BY SUE WEBB

editor@onemk.co.uk

THE Old Bus Station - better known as The Buszy - will be the central meeting point for The Winter Night Shelter MK this year, it was agreed on Monday.

At a meeting of the Milton Keynes Development Partnership, which runs the building, the shelter was told it could use the site as a temporary measure while a longer-term solution is sought.

The move will not affect the ongoing tender process for a permanent use for The Old Bus Station, located in Elder Gate, Central Milton Keynes.

The charity provides overnight accommodation to homeless and vulnerable people who would otherwise be sleeping rough, usually between late November and mid-

March each year. This season, the project will run from December 1 until March 15, when there is the greatest risk to life for rough sleepers.

The building will be used as a reception centre, with guests being welcomed and checked over before being taken in a minibus to overnight accommodation around the city.

Richard Wightman, chairman of The Winter Night Shelter MK, made an impassioned speech at a recent meeting of Milton Keynes Council's cabinet for help finding a base for the organisation. He told OneMK: "It's very good news, we are very pleased to hear about the agreement to use The Buszy this coming season. We are very appreciative of the efforts of the council."

Last year, the shelter provided 1,348 'bed nights' for 68 people over three-and-a-half months.

Classical music has Trevor in seventh heaven

ARTIST Trevor Jeavons has been inspired by Sir Isaac Newton for his latest exhibition, Seven Fragments.

The Stony Stratford based art psychotherapist and former head teacher took inspiration from Newton's belief, derived from the ancient Greek sophists, of there being a connection between the seven colours of the rainbow, the seven musical notes and the days of the week.

Trevor, who plays in a jazz band, took the connection literally when he created his works and he readily admits to having synaesthesia - a condition that means he can automatically see music as a pattern in his mind.

For the Seven Fragments exhibition he has taken this condition to create the works as painted responses to the opening bars of classical orchestral music.

The art works plus other pieces can be seen at Stony Stratford Library until Saturday, September 24 before going on display at his studio at York House in Stony.

Mum-to-be loses baby after attack

BY SUE WEBB

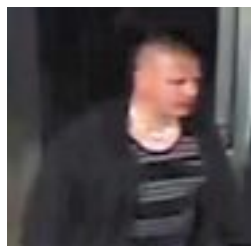

editor@onemk.co.uk

A MUM-TO-BE lost her baby when she was kicked in the stomach in a racially-aggravated assault.

Police have released this image of a man they want to talk to in connection with the incident.

The victim, who is 34, was in the Co-op in Water Eaton Road, Bletchley, when she was approached by a man who directed racial remarks at her.

The woman was followed to her car at around 9.40pm on Saturday, August 6 and the assailant hit another victim, a 40-year-old man, over the head with a bag of ice and a bottle.

The offender then kicked the pregnant woman in the torso, causing her to fall to the floor.

Both victims were taken to Milton Keynes General Hospital and discharged after treatment.

Investigating officer, PC Richard Armitage said: "This racially-aggravated assault had absolutely devastating consequences for the victim, who lost her baby as a result of the attack. Our thoughts are with her and her family at this incredibly difficult and sad time. A thorough investigation is underway and we would like to speak to the man pictured as he may have information which could help with the investigation."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

Lottery cash to help children

A CHARITY is celebrating winning a major Big Lottery Fund grant of £324,700 to work with disadvantaged children and young people.

Charity Service Six's three year Youth Starz project is set to begin in November and will support 350 plus youngsters aged four to 19 all of whom will be identified as vulnerable and hard to reach.

Based at its Coffee Hall Community Centre, the scheme will offer bespoke support programmes for individuals and a range of free activities and services targeted within the Woughton and CMK areas.

The grant follows a consultation with more than 250 young people living within the area to identify their needs and interests, which has helped to shape the project that will initially focus on free sporting activities, in particular football academies, arts, crafts and cookery.

Assistant chief executive Claudia Slabon said:

"Service Six is over the moon about the grant award but young people within the areas are the real winners.

"We are really excited about our new project and can only see positive benefits for vulnerable children and communities.

"This is a real opportunity to develop our existing success and outcomes and make sure that together we are reaching the most disadvantaged young people with the best range and quality of services."

In the last year Service Six has helped 97 people across diverse ages, ethnicity and needs with interventions including Home Work Club.

Last month it took 30 kids for a day trip to Hunstanton funded by the Milton Keynes Community Foundation.

Phil Jeffrey took this week's photograph of crowds gathered at the International Festival

Let's hit the rails

SEVERAL months ago, Milton Keynes Council announced with great fanfare a public consultation called 'MK Futures'.

They asked for ideas from the public to enhance the future of Milton Keynes. With some enthusiasm, I responded with an idea for a simple underground train system, which would be the only such system in the UK and a boost for visitors to our modern city.

The idea took some working out and I admit it has not been considered, but I eventually sent it to the council.

A pleasant lady responded and told me that the idea would be discussed and shown on the web. A link she gave me proved to have nothing on it about my idea and, it seems, the council has plumped for a tram system.

So what was the purpose of MK Futures – just to pretend that the council were 'people friendly' or just a bit of PR?

I have included my idea as sent to the council below – perhaps your readers could judge it. The response won't all be positive, I know!

An Underground System For MK:

In the local press you recently asked the general public to supply ideas for the future of Milton Keynes. I have such an idea, and it is for an underground railway to be built between Milton Keynes Central station up to the end of the centre:mk near Campbell

Park. It would be environmentally friendly and free from cold weather problems such as ice or snow. Quick access to the main features of the city is possible.

The line: This could be cut-and-cover along a straight line below one of the carriageways of the existing boulevards, then underneath into and terminating near Campbell Park. It would not be very deep, so the cost of construction would be less than a normal system. A divided section of line would be required at each end of the system, for vehicle positioning.

The stations: Starting at Central station, stops could be included at the Business District, into and maybe three stops along the centre:mk, with the last serving the theatre district. The extreme length of the shopping centre already needs something to reduce walking distances. Each station could have two lifts, plus a spiral staircase for safety. Not escalators, because they need more dug space and require more maintenance.

The trains: One system that would be ideal for such a line would be the 'Parry People Mover' system, which uses a flywheel to provide motive power for the tram-like vehicles. Apparently the flywheel needs only a 30 second charge from an ac electricity supply. An incline can be accommodated, so the tunnel could rise up from the station to town. Such a system would be environmentally friendly.

Existing transport: Of course there are plenty of bus services on this route now, but they use diesel fuel and, because of the need to go around into, have relatively long journey times.

Please note that I have no connection with the Parry People Mover company – I just think it is a brilliant idea! Check out their website via Google.

I think I have covered the main points except finance about my suggestion and do hope you look into it – maybe you could instigate a feasibility study. Besides, why does London have to have all the underground railways!

How annoying

I HAVE just read an article about Arnold Sube turning down a new five bedroom council house.

Firstly if he was living in France why bring his wife and children here (benefits)?

I assume he holds a European passport, he has already been given sheltered accommodation and a three-bedroom house probably big enough for his family at that time, so they have more children so that they qualify for a bigger house, neither of them work so the taxpayer pays for their existence.

My daughter has lived in Milton Keynes for 45 years and has worked in MK since she was 17.

TELL US YOUR VIEWS

DO YOU AGREE OR DISAGREE with the stories in the paper or have you a view on an MK subject you want heard? Letters must arrive by noon on Monday, include your full name and address and should be kept short, to the point and may be edited.

Paul Griffiths

His column written exclusively for OneMK

TOMORROW night is the inaugural Made In MK Awards. As headline sponsor, we at Milton Keynes Chamber of Commerce are very much looking forward to celebrating the impressive achievements of local companies and entrepreneurs.

As part of the judging panel for the awards, I was amazed by the amount of entries received – so many that the first date for the ceremony had to be postponed to allow more time to process them all!

And each of those shortlisted in the 10 categories were of such an exceptionally high standard that it was a difficult decision to pick the worthy winners.

The Milton Keynes Chamber of Commerce's mission is to build and nurture a respected, influential business community and share knowledge, advice and opportunities.

And over the past three years the chamber has supported more than 550 businesses through membership.

Currently our membership covers circa 18 per cent of the region's workforce and we are part of the British Chambers of Commerce network which has over 100,000 member businesses nationwide.

We are wowed by the borough's brilliant businesses and organisations on a daily basis and will revel in their chance to shine on this new platform.

We are delighted to be headline sponsor for these awards and we wish all entrants the very best of luck for tomorrow night's ceremony.

Her and her husband both work in MK and earn a reasonable income but cannot afford to buy a house. They have been told that they cannot go on a council housing list or a housing society list because they do not have enough points so they live in private accommodation with their daughter, they pay £875 a month rent, which stretches them to the limit, plus they have no better prospects for the future.

I find it very annoying that someone like Mr Sube can be handed accommodation before hardworking long-term citizens of Milton Keynes and I would like to suggest that if he is not happy here that he goes back to France where I sure he will be treated much better.

School shut after burst pipe cuts water

A BURST water main forced a school to close and left some homes without water or low pressure.

The incident happened on Monday with reports of water shooting two metres in the air at the site at the turning for Hanslope on the B526 between Gayhurst and Stoke Goldington. Olney Middle School was closed yesterday on advice from Anglian Water. Homes in Gayhurst, Hanslope, Stoke Goldington, Olney, Warrington and Lavendon were affected.

Drivers faced long delays as the area was cordoned off and traffic lights put in place while repairs were carried out. Sarah Dobson from Anglian Water said it was 'a difficult section of pipe to repair'.

Abuse victim is jailed for arson

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

AN ABUSE victim is behind bars after she stuffed a pair of pyjamas into the letterbox of a home she shared with her boyfriend and set them alight while he slept.

A judge described Faye McVeigh's childhood as 'rotten' and said it was hard to believe anyone could have had a worse start in life.

And her sister Sharna Madassy, 19, along with OneMK readers, has jumped to her defence.

She said: "She is the sort of person who is always there for you. She is a beautiful human being and she is always around her family - she loves music and is such an animal person."

"What has happened to her obviously caused her to do something that wasn't such a good idea."

McVeigh, pictured, had a row with her abusive boyfriend Leon Morais before she set fire to their home on June 26, the court was told. Judge Francis Sheridan heard on Thursday that she returned home from a night out with her mum and snorted 10 lines of cocaine and downed three glasses of wine.

The 24-year-old was frustrated when Mr Morais refused to leave the house and after he fell into a deep sleep she rang police and set fire to the flat. At Aylesbury Crown Court Judge Sheridan slapped a restraining order on McVeigh, preventing her from contacting her former partner, and sent her to prison for two years and four months.

The court was told she admitted everything to police when she was arrested on the morning after the fire in Old Grove way, Simpson, and was charged with arson, reckless as to whether life was endangered.

Neighbouring homes had to be evacuated.

Judge Sheridan said "It gives me no pleasure to pass a sentence like this but it is in the public interest."

Male driver targets woman

A WOMAN was forced to pull her car over into a lay-by before a man started banging on her car windows on Saturday evening.

The victim was driving a blue Ford Fiesta on H3 Monks Way, near Bradville

Industrial Estate, at around 7.30pm when she was targeted by a man driving a silver Mercedes.

The male got out of his car and started banging on the windows of the Fiesta, shouting at the woman to get out. A couple walking a black Labrador told the suspect to go away or they would call the police and officers would like to identify this couple.

Anyone with information should contact PC Dan Marfleet on 101.

Planning inquiry continues

THE planning inquiry into the controversial expansion of intu Milton Keynes has continued this week.

The hearing at The Church of Christ the Cornerstone has heard from objectors who argue the shopping centre's proposal goes against the Neighbourhood Plan passed last year, something which has been disputed by intu.

The inquiry is due to be adjourned today until November 30 when it is set to continue for three more days.

The planning inspectorate will then issue their report recommending the plans are approved or refused.

The final decision will be made by the Secretary of State and is not expected until next year.

Leader's green space warning

THE leader of Milton Keynes Council has warned there will come a point when developments will have to be built on green space.

Cllr Pete Marland spoke after a plan to build 20 houses in Tweed Drive, Bletchley, was thrown out because of a covenant on the land. He did accept work should not take place there but said: "If everybody says that every bit of green land can't be built on then we will simply not be able to build enough houses."

Speaking after the meeting he added: "If we are going to tackle the housing crisis there are plots of land that we will have to use and we will have to take tough decisions. Brownfield sites and sites that are already earmarked for development will always take priority but there are plots of land which were always meant to be filled in and allocated for housing or another use.

"There is a lot of green space earmarked for development but people have got used to them being undeveloped and there is a difference between undeveloped land and public green space."

Painter delivers homeless lunch

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A COMMUNITY-MINDED painter is doing his bit to help the homeless by providing lunches to people on the street.

Raymond Leigh, 46, has been delivering about 100 lunches around three times a week to homeless people to help them out.

Mr Leigh, who lives in CMK, decided to act after hearing of the death of a homeless person in the city centre last year.

"We have got an epidemic in Milton Keynes," said Mr Leigh.

"I know that these people may have issues whether that's with mental health, relationships that have broken down or they can't buy or rent a house and I can't do anything to do with that but I can help them get some food. "I come home and I know people still need feeding."

What started out as quite a small venture is now something which is getting bigger, to the point that he is now asking friends to help him deliver and make the lunches.

"I go out on a Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday to deliver lunches and three months ago I started distributing them on my own.

"Friends put what I was doing on social media and a couple have joined in to help which is great."

Raymond also said that while he has been out he has been asking homeless people what they need and after receiving feedback he is now trying to collect blankets.

Epidemic: From left, Lee MacGuinness, Trevor Smeaton and Raymond Leigh with the lunch bags they deliver to the homeless

He added: "Sometimes life goes the wrong way and doing this helps you see that quite a small thing can go a long way. "My garage has filled up pretty quickly with things that people want to donate to the homeless."

Illegal immigrants in tents

THE leader of Milton Keynes Council said that some of the people who were evicted from tents in the city centre were illegal immigrants.

There was outrage back in July when OneMK reported that some homeless people were being evicted from their tents.

But at a Milton Keynes Council cabinet meeting last Tuesday night, Cllr Pete Marland said some of those people were in the country illegally.

He said: "Some of the people in tents were in this country illegally.

"We have got data on that. "We have residents in CMK that are distressed by this."

OneMK has asked to view this data but we have yet to see it. A protest march has been organised for this evening by former homeless man Ricky Oates and the MK People's Assembly in protest over the tent issue.

The Kill The Housing Act group are joining the protest march, which is due to start from the Old Bus Station, known as The Buszy, in Elder Gate at 6pm.

Songbird: Dave Jeffries and Farai Chirimutta (from 3rd Lens productions) will be hosting a Lip Sync charity evening at the Burnt Oak in Shenley Brook End in aid of Willen Hospice

Lip Sync Battle

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@onemk.co.uk

JUSTIN Bieber and Adele wannabes are being challenged to pick up the microphone for a charity night inspired by hit TV show Lip Sync Battle UK.

The Burnt Oak in Shenley Brook End will be the venue for duelling mimers to clash on September 30 to raise money for Willen Hospice.

Each entry will be filmed and posted on the pub's Facebook page and the video with the most likes will be crowned the winner.

Dave Jeffries, 45, of Newton Leys, runs regular quizzes at the pub and is organising the charity night.

He said: "I have absolutely no idea what people might try and sing on the night.

"I'm going to try and encourage people to dress up as the stars too.

"We'd like a mix of recent hits and old classics!"

Based on the hit American show, Lip Sync Battle UK premiered on Channel 5 earlier this year.

Stars such as Alesha Dixon, Michelle Keegan, Carol Vorderman and David

Walliams all competed against one other by miming hits both past and present.

Dave added: "People have to actually step up and sing at karaoke, but this is just miming, which I hope makes it more relaxing.

"Hosting the night is a leap of faith and I'm really hoping it goes down well."

All entrants are asked to email their song choices to Dave on drj2401@gmail.com by September 24.

The battle begins at 7.30pm and more information can be found on the event's Facebook page.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes &

Leighton Buzzard areas and manager Stephen Moon agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Stephen a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Prisoner found hanged in cell

BY SUE WEBB
editor@onemk.co.uk

A SUICIDAL transgender prisoner hanged herself when make-up brushes she had ordered were not delivered to her on time, an inquest has been told.

Joanne Latham, who was serving three life terms for attempted murder in an all-male prison, barricaded herself into her cell before slashing her arm with shattered glass from a broken television set.

The 38-year-old, who changed her name from Eddie while at HMP Woodhill, was found dead at around 5am on November 27 last year, after covering her observation window with a cleaning cloth.

The former convert of Islam had begun living life as a woman three months before her death and was described as 'the most difficult prisoner' by an operations manager at Woodhill.

Ms Latham suffered from mental health problems and had a history of violence and self harm, including two attempts to kill fellow prisoners.

Coroner Tom Osbourne revealed she had originally been sentenced to life imprisonment more than 15 years ago.

The inquest continues. Keep up to date at onemk.co.uk

Cheaper fares for bus travel

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@onemk.co.uk

REVISED bus rates for young, elderly and disabled city residents have been revealed by Milton Keynes Council.

Some concessionary fares on buses within the city are being revised as part of a six-month trial.

Councillor Liz Gifford, cabinet member for transport, said: "These reductions in fares are great news for young and older people who use the local bus service."

"I would encourage anyone who is eligible for the discount travel cards to take advantage of these benefits as they offer both great flexibility and potential savings."

Young bus users aged five to 19 can apply for an All in 1 MK card. This entitles them to a single trip for a £1, a 10 trip ticket for £10, a weekly pass for £8.50 and a four-weekly pass for £27.

Details on how to apply for an All in 1 card can be found at milton-keynes.gov.uk or in leaflets at the Civic Offices, Saxon Court and in libraries. ENCTS (English National

Bus travel: Reduced fares for young, elderly and disabled city residents are being trialled for six months by the council Concessionary Travel Scheme) passes issued by Milton Keynes Council also boast additional benefits.

Passes with a blue stripe mean users can travel on buses within MK from midnight until 9.29am Monday to Friday for £1 per single journey and free travel on buses within the city from 11pm until midnight Monday to Friday.

For more details, visit onemk.co.uk

READER COMMENTS

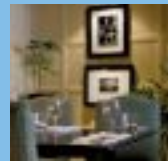

Stacey Lands: "Most of the time it's cheaper to get a taxi in Milton Keynes."

Gina Fisher-Lake: "Cheaper to get taxis when there are more than two people and it's door to door service."

Gracie Randall: "I see nothing has changed for non-card holders, a single ticket alone is taking the mick!"

Could you fall into the pension death trap?

As a wise man once told us, "nothing is certain but death and taxes." Whilst that quote stands the test of time, chances are the pension provisions you made 20 years ago almost definitely won't! At Wealth and Tax Management, we see on a daily basis how seemingly small decisions made all those years ago could really alter the course of your retirement.

Pensions are a great way to obtain tax relief, but if you don't know the rules, you're probably not maximising the relief available to you. We often see cases where higher and additional rate taxpayers are not making the most of the relief available to them. This tax year has also brought about great opportunities to maximise your pension contributions (and the related tax relief), and having your pension professionally managed by a Chartered Financial Planner can ensure that you maximise both the contributions and tax relief available to you.

Dilara Uyduran

Technical Analyst at Wealth and Tax Management

If you have been maximising your pension contributions each year for your whole working life, you will have a well-deserved sizeable pot in retirement. However, if you don't spend it all, do you know where your pot will go when you're no longer here? A mistake we often notice when reviewing self-managed pension is the failure to name a death beneficiary to inherit your pension fund. Or even worse – people have their divorced spouse named to inherit 100% of their pension! Now that pensions really are 'inheritable' it's more important than ever to make sure that your pension goes to who really matters. Otherwise, the whole fund could be left to the insurance company (or your ex!).

If you do have your nominations up to date, great! But when was the last time you checked what kind of pension pot you had? Lots of old pension products do not facilitate the new pension freedoms, meaning that they do not currently allow pots to be inherited, and only offer the option of annuity rather than drawdown in retirement.

Saving for retirement is a life long task, and it's so important that your pension really does serve you well in your later years. Having your pension reviewed by a Chartered Financial Planner can ensure that the creases in your retirement planning are ironed out, before it's too late!

If you are approaching retirement and/or considering early retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

We work with business executives aged 45+ who are ready to take their life and career by the scruff of the neck.

We are also offering a free pensions and retirement assessment worth £270 to the first 10 people who contact us before 30th September 2016. Terms and conditions apply.

'Take action to stop distressing floods'

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR has requested investigations begin to help prevent a repeat of the terrible flooding that hit Woburn Sands in June.

Councillor David Hopkins brought the issue to Milton Keynes Council's cabinet last Tuesday night after serious damage was caused to properties in Aspley Hill, Downham Road and Vicarage Road, while there were also issues on the High Street.

Nicola Brooks, who works in the admin department at Beasley and Partners Estate Agents in the town, said tenants had been affected by the flooding.

"We have got a lot of rental properties, which we had to deal with in terms of insurance claims when the flooding happened," she said.

"Hopefully it can be prevented from happening again because some people are worried."

Cllr Hopkins wants Milton Keynes Council to work with Central Bedfordshire Council, which also has Under water: Sharona Voigtlander-Ford sent us this picture of flooding in Woburn Sands. Many roads were affected in June responsibility for some parts of Woburn Sands.

He also asked the meeting to start a programme of investigation and design works to look at how the town can be protected from further flooding, including more regular drain inspections and clearance and a reporting regime that allows a rapid response in case there are any blocked or ineffective drains.

"There can be nothing more distressing for residents than to find their houses flooded," said Cllr Hopkins.

"What used to happen once in 100 years now happens once in 100 days. It's something we need to address."

Cllr Martin Gowans, public realm portfolio holder who has responsibility for such issues, said 'extra capacity' had been brought in to deal with problem points and that data had been attained to focus on which areas to clean.

20mph speed limit is back in spotlight

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

WORK is being done to create a 20mph zone outside a village school.

Councillor David Hopkins wants to reduce the 30mph speed limit in Station Road, Bow Brickhill.

The aim is to improve safety for students who attend Bow Brickhill C of E Primary School.

Work was being done to implement the speed limit last year but that fell by the wayside when the council worker responsible for the scheme left the authority.

"Bow Brickhill has a primary school and this road is getting busier and busier," Cllr Hopkins told Milton Keynes Council's cabinet last Tuesday night.

"We really do need to do something to mitigate the dangers and to overcome some of the speeding issues on Station Road so I'm looking forward to seeing that plan."

"I would urge the council to work with our planning

Slow down: Cllr David Hopkins outside Bow Brickhill Primary team." Cllr Martin Gowans, public realm portfolio holder whose remit includes speeding, said the work was being undertaken and he hoped the speed limit would be in place by the end of the financial year.

Getting roads such as Station Road down to 20mph is an issue which many people are backing.

Anna Semlyen, national campaign manager of pressure group 20's Plenty for Us said: "Our bodies have evolved to work better and longer with activity as part of our normal life."

"Yet too many people are afraid to walk or cycle on their local roads."

"20mph makes it feel safer for all ages. It's a no-brainer – slower equals safer, equals better for people on foot or on bike."

Bow Brickhill C of E Primary School declined to comment on the story.

Bright sparks to get support

A HUB providing free support to startup companies has opened. Entrepreneurial Spark, based at NatWest's office in Silbury Boulevard, CMK, will offer 70 entrepreneurs help, mentoring, workshops, training, networking events, office space and facilities.

At Thursday's launch, pitches were made for funding and guest speakers included MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman, pictured.

Rent deposit costs £182 more in MK

BY ANDY HANDLEY

andy.handley@onemk.co.uk

THE cost of moving to rented property in Milton Keynes is nearly 20 per cent higher than the national average.

This quarter's Deposit Protection Service's (The DPS) tenancy deposit rating shows that between April and June the sum that you have to pay up front has risen to £1,153.17. This cost is £182.62 higher than the national average of £970.48 but the report goes on to show that the cost of renting in MK is still averaging a massive £645.95 per month (35.9 per cent) less than London.

Julian Foster, managing director at The DPS, said: "Tenancy deposits give landlords peace of mind when they rent out property, but they are usually large sums and are often the most financially demanding aspect of moving house.

"Nevertheless, when landlords protect the money with The DPS, renters can also be assured that their money is safe throughout their tenancy and that they'll have recourse to free, impartial adjudication if there is a dispute when they move out."

Discover the exciting taste of Antep Kitchen, Wolverton's newest Turkish Restaurant & Bar...

Offering the aromatic and traditional flavours of Turkey in our intimate and relaxing restaurant.

For many years Gaziantep cuisine has held a privileged place amongst the greatest cuisines in the world. We take our inspiration from its traditional rich flavours.

A special feature of Antep Kitchen is the great care taken in selecting the perfect ingredients when preparing our dishes.

So as to enhance your experience and bring you the true taste of the Antep Kitchen we have hand selected some of the finest Chefs, as the skill of the person preparing them are just as important as the quality of the ingredients.

We have an exciting menu bringing you some of the great classic dishes such as the famous Chicken Shish and Lahmacun (the classic Turkish pizza) as well as few of our own favourites.

Highly recommended by Chef is the Kuzu Sarma Beyti, deliciously marinated minced lamb seasoned with garlic and herbs, grilled over our open charcoal grills, wrapped on bread and cheese and drizzled with butter and topped with our homemade tomato sauce and yoghurt, a must try.

Mezes, Turkish breakfast, chargrilled fish, fresh kebabs, gorgeous salads and mouth watering deserts.. we are sure we wont disappoint!

Abuse video shared by drug dealing dad

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@onemk.co.uk

A DAD who shared a video of horrific sexual abuse on children 'as a joke' was jailed for more than seven years on Friday.

He also became one of the first people to be sentenced for possessing legal highs.

William Cook, 29, of Mead Crescent, Redhouse Park, was only caught because his WhatsApp messenger on his new phone kept a record of all of the videos he sent using his previous smartphone.

Cook was convicted of distributing the video of a 12-year-old girl being forced to have sex with a five-year-old and possession of videos of people having sex with a goat and a dog.

Sitting at Aylesbury Crown Court Judge Francis Sheridan said: "It was child abuse of the worst sort and by having this for distribution it breathes life into the horrible industry of sex child abuse."

Cook was also convicted of a string of drug offences and £55,000 worth of money laundering, after police raided his home in May 13, 2015.

Sarah Porter, prosecuting, said a total of 8.59g of cocaine with a street value of about £400, a cutting agent and weighing scales with traces of the drug were found.

Cook admitted possession with intent to supply cocaine and possession of an extendable baton, which officers found in his Audi car. He later admitted being in breach of court bail and possession with intent to supply cocaine at the Electric Daisy Carnival in Milton Keynes on July 9, 2015.

Ms Porter said he was also charged with possession with intent to supply a psychoactive substance (legal high) after he was caught red-handed with 94 canisters of laughing gas and more than 100 balloons at the event.

Graham King, defending, said Cook had been a 'hard-working' man enticed by the 'easy criminal life' of his friends.

Judge Sheridan said: "It is very unusual to find someone who throws himself so wholeheartedly into a life of crime."

Cook was jailed for seven years and three months for all the crimes and placed on the Sex Offenders' Register for 10 years.

Investigating officer Stephanie Mason said: "I believe this may be one of the first cases where possession of a Psychoactive Substance with intent to supply has been sentenced at court since the change in the law in May to counteract the issue of what had been known as 'legal highs'."

'There is a need for cancer group'

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

TWO city women with a rare and incurable cancer have set up what is believed to be the first support group of its kind in Milton Keynes.

Sue Gower, 68, from Stony Stratford, and Liz Revell, from Sherington, organised the first meeting last Tuesday at The Peartree Centre in Peartree Bridge for people looking for support with myeloma.

Every year about 5,500 people in the UK are diagnosed with the condition, which starts in the bone marrow.

It predominantly affects people over the age of 65 and causes complications including bone fractures, kidney impairment, recurrent infection, anaemia and fatigue.

Sue said: "We decided to set up a support group because they are a great way to provide patients, carers and family members with a place that they can meet up to share their experiences and learn more about myeloma

Helping: Sue Gower has helped set up a myeloma support group and its treatments.

"It can be an isolating experience to have a condition that very few people have even heard of. There is a need for this here."

Sue Perkins, services development manager at Myeloma UK, said: "We are very pleased Sue and Liz have decided to set up a support group in Milton Keynes.

"We encourage myeloma patients, their families and healthcare professionals to set up new groups in areas where there is no support currently available because they provide a vital opportunity to share information and experiences with other patients and their relatives, in an informal and supportive setting."

People are welcome to just turn up to the meetings. The next one will be at The Peartree Centre on Tuesday, November 1 at 2pm.

For more details email sue.gower1@btinternet.com or Liz@revell.f9.co.uk

You could make a difference to a child or young person's life

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

Our foster carers come from all walks of life and across a diverse community. They offer children and young people a nurturing, caring home environment where they can begin to thrive and reach their full potential.

It's a challenging role; one which will always ask for a great deal of input and support from you. However in providing a home to a child/young person who is unable to live with their family for a period of time you will be creating a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

Making his Mark in the world of books

andy.handley@onemk.co.uk

A JOURNALIST turned author who is being compared to the late fantasy novelist Sir Terry Pratchett has had his second book published.

Wartworld and Other Quirky Short Stories by Mark Stillman, who used to work at this newspaper, is a collection of 15 dark and humorous tales.

The Holderness Gazette recently described Mark, who now lives in Yorkshire, as 'Paull village's very own version of Terry Pratchett'.

The 51-year-old, formerly of Waterside, Peartree Bridge, said: "I don't know about Terry Pratchett. But someone said that my imagination is so off-beat that it makes Pratchett look like the author of the shipping forecast. I think she meant it as a compliment."

One story, Fantasy Marjorie, is set in Queensway, Bletchley. It's about a grieving young man who invents a wickedly funny game that will change bus journeys forever.

Telling tales: Ex-journalist Mark Stillman is now an author Curiosity Killed The Cat – A Story About Time Travel, is based in nearby Luton.

Mark, who is also an award-winning journalist, said: "These are a mixture of parables and magical realism, adult fairytales and ghost stories with a twist."

Mark helped co-launch this newspaper's predecessor, Milton Keynes on Sunday, in 1997 and continued working on the then MK News from its beginning in 2002 until 2006.

His roles included news editor, sports editor and writer of the controversial Stillman on Sunday and World of Stillman columns.

Comedy club returns to tickle your funnybone

OUR funny friends at Comedy Cow return after their summer break with another night of top stand-up at The Red Dot Bar at stadiummk on Friday.

The Irish comedian Paddy Lennox, pictured, tops the bill. He first burst on to stage as a stand-up in 2001 and is known for being a very funny, engaging and instantly likeable comic who combines topical material with observational routines. He has supported many touring comics such as Rhod Gilbert, Lucy Porter and Micky Flanagan while playing all the usual big clubs – but he likes the smaller ones too.

As an actor Paddy has already clocked up a pretty impressive list of theatre, film and TV credits including Holby City and Doctors and has appeared on stage at Shakespeare's Globe.

The Red Dot Bar provides a stylish setting in which to enjoy comedy seated at tables. The night is perfect for couples, or groups of friends or colleagues to go and enjoy some of the best comedy on the UK circuit in a great atmosphere.

The comedy starts at 8.15pm (doors open from 7.30pm) and tickets cost £10 from tickets@thecomedycow.co.uk. Other acts for the night are still to be announced.

THERE has been some 'otterly' exciting news recently down in the Foot Safari, with the arrival of five adorable baby Asian short clawed otter pups.

The pups were born to mum Kelani and dad Kovu and are all doing really well and are very healthy.

They can be seen running around together and exploring their home, Otter Falls, so make sure you keep an eye out on your next visit – their squeaks are very cute!

It's not long until our annual Elephant Appreciation Weekend too, which is taking place on September 24-25.

This coincides nicely with Asian elephant calf Tarli's second birthday (which is on September 24) so make sure you book your admission tickets now to see the birthday girl and the other herd members.

Visitors will also have the chance to get their picture taken with one of the adult females for a donation, with all proceeds going to the International Elephant Foundation.

Last year's event was great so I can't wait for all the fun and games taking place during this special elephant weekend!

A RED Bull Racing Formula One car will be the star attraction at MK Museum's annual Transport Weekend.

A replica of a Red Bull Racing RB4 will join more than 200 other cars, vans, military equipment and motorbikes at the event on Saturday and Sunday.

Many of the cars parking up will be labours of love for their owners and for those who prefer to travel on two wheels a large turnout of gleaming bikes will also be on show.

Children won't miss out either and they can even hop aboard for a trip on a miniature train.

Craft stalls, model railway displays and a barbecue will all feature and all of the usual museum attractions will be open throughout the weekend.

The museum will be open from 11am-4.30pm each day and normal entry fees apply. Visit www.mkmuseum.org.uk

YOU may have heard of Gulliver's theme parks – but did you know they do children's birthday parties too?

The popular family attraction is the perfect venue for your child's next birthday party and Gulliver's Splash Zone is the ultimate indoor water factory.

MK LIFE has teamed up with Gulliver's to give three lucky readers the chance to win a Splash Zone birthday party for their child and up to 15 friends.

Suitable for ages two and over, the party will be held at Gulliver's Land in Newlands, Milton Keynes. It will last for two hours, 15 minutes and include the use of the Splash Zone for one hour.

Packed with all kinds of features such as slides, streams and even a giant tipping bucket, this is the perfect place for a fantastic party experience.

The winners will have their own party room complete with a coordinator, food (choice of chicken nuggets and chips or sandwich pack and crisps, cold drink and ice cream), birthday card and plenty of fun.

To be in with a chance of winning just answer this question:

How long is the Splash Zone party?

- A) 1hr 45mins
B) 2hrs 15mins
C) 3hrs 30mins

Terms and conditions: Parties are non-refundable, non-transferable and cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer. The Splash Zone Birthday party is valid for up to 16 people aged two years and over and must be taken by October 31, 2016.

Winners will be contacted by Gulliver's hotline to arrange their party, subject to availability.

For more information visit www.gulliversbirthdays.co.uk/parties/splash-zone-party

stagedebut

STRICTLY Come Dancing finalist Georgia May Foote will be taking on the iconic role of Holly Golightly when Breakfast at Tiffany's comes to Milton Keynes Theatre.

Audrey Hepburn delivered a star turn as the character in the famous 1961 movie and Georgia knows she has big shoes to fill in her professional stage debut.

She said: "I was excited that I had such a great part, but I'm also quite nervous about that because it is my perception of her."

"This is my first ever stage job so it is all completely new to me."

"When I speak to people who do a lot of stage work, they tell me you learn discipline in your role and you have to deliver your best every night – there's no second chances!"

Georgia has been acting since the age of 12 and her previous credits include Coronation Street, Casualty, Emmerdale and Grange Hill.

After being cast in the production, the actress believes fans of the movie will be surprised by the stage version, which stays true to Truman Capote's novella.

She added: "It is quite a dark and deep story and I think it will be shocking to some."

"I think the audience will get a bit more depth of the story and we really see the relationship between Fred and Holly and how it comes about."

Georgia and the rest of the cast will be hoping to wow the crowds in Milton Keynes from Monday to September 24. Book tickets at atgtickets.com/milton-keynes

animationfilm

FROM the mind of Charlie Kaufman (Being John Malkovich) comes Anomalisa, a tender, touching and achingly funny black comedy – filmed entirely in breathtaking stop motion animation.

Successful motivational speaker Michael Stone is on a business trip. Crippled by the mundanity of his life, he checks into his hotel and prepares to once more go through the motions.

But this time a chance meeting with Lisa, an unassuming baked goods sales rep, throws the dullness into disarray.

Smart, humorously absurd and bracingly humane, Anomalisa is a technically stunning work of animation showing at MK Gallery on Friday at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £5 (concessions £3) from mkgallery.org

WITH the exception of Scarlett Moffat's new book and George Gibly's Big Brother adventures, the other Gogglebox stars have kept a relatively low profile...until now!

Sandi and Sandra are our Gogglebox faves, but it seems like one of them is going solo! Sandi Bogle has released her debut single – a cover of the 80s track Casanova by Coffee – but with a more up-to-date twist.

She has now been signed to DeeVu Records and a spokesman said: "Sandi is an absolute pleasure to work with and is a true professional." Hear the track at heart.co.uk

A year ago, we asked you to join us and support Heart's charity, Global's Make Some Noise, to help change young lives and thanks to you and hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country we raised £2million to help give a voice to small charities.

And on Friday, October 7, Global's Make Some Noise Day is back and this year it's going to be even bigger and better than before. Head over to heart.co.uk to find out how you can get involved in Dress Loud Day on October 7 and you can read about a couple of the local charities that will benefit.

PROPERTY TALK

>with NIGEL LEWIS

But is it like a Tardis inside?

IT'S hard to imagine the Doctor without his time-travelling police box, but when BBC producers were devising the show in the early 1960s, they thought viewers shouldn't see a machine, just 'a shape of nothingness'.

However, the Beeb's head of drama Sydney Newman, who commissioned the first series, insisted an invisible machine wouldn't cut it, and the writers struck on the idea of the iconic Tardis.

There were fears that a science fiction drama wouldn't be popular with TV audiences and the first episode was discreetly advertised in the Radio Times on Saturday 23 November 1963 at 5.15pm, sandwiched between Grandstand and Juke Box Jury. However, despite an opening night that clashed with coverage of the JFK assassination, Doctor Who was a hit, and half a century later there's still great excitement about the new series and a Christmas special. It's just been announced that this year's festive outing will feature a one-off guest companion, ahead of next year's new series. The BBC has also just commissioned an animated series reviving six long-lost episodes of a 1966 six-part story The Power of the Daleks, featuring the first ever regeneration when Patrick Troughton took over from William Hartnell.

Back in the '60s, cast members rehearsed at a pub in Reckitt

Road, Chiswick, which was later converted into houses.

One of them, with three large bedrooms and two bathrooms, is on the market for £1.75m. Agent Dexters reckons it's in excellent condition with large first floor south-facing double height reception room, courtyard garden and balcony.

■ www.dexters.co.uk, 0208 995 4321.

Welcome to the house of fun

SOME people might use a stair-lift to get from one floor to the other, but Kew House has a fun slide to get its owners downstairs double-quick.

The modern family home – one of the finalists in Grand Designs: House of the Year in 2015 – has a huge basement which includes a children's play area with Astroturf flooring that you can get down to on stairs or a wooden slide.

The site was originally a bunch of derelict garages before it was bought by award-winning structural engineer Tim Lucas six years ago for £400,000.

The site's transformation into a dream home now on the market for £3.8 million with The Modern House (0203 795 5920) was featured on Channel 4's Grand Designs TV show in November 2015, and was also shortlisted for a Royal Institute of British Architects' coveted award, handed out each year to the best new house designed by an architect in the UK.

It didn't win, but Kevin McCloud loved the property, saying: "The rooms in this house ping off in different directions yet the space feels generous, inventive, open and light, and well-connected to other spaces. Each room is like a cabinet of curiosities."

Set partly behind the façade of a Victorian stable, it has two gabled wings around a central courtyard, connected by a glazed circulation block. The property is covered with pre-fabricated weathered steel, studded with holes to mimic the effect of dappled light through the branches of trees.

The large kitchen/dining area has doors opening onto a walled courtyard, while there's also a pantry, walk-in cloakroom, laundry room and wet room.

Lofty ambitions of UK's highest apartments

You'll need a head for heights at this record-breaking new block of flats. When it's finished, the 67-storey and £800m building will be 771ft tall, the highest residential development in the UK and Western Europe.

From its top floors, owners will be rewarded with uninterrupted panoramic views over London, taking in the Thames, Canary Wharf and the City of London.

And because there's evidently no time to stand around waiting to enjoy the sights, Spire London will boast nine instead of the usual four or six lifts. It means busy residents will only have to waste up to 35 seconds waiting for a lift, which will travel up the building at six metres a second.

Of the 861 rooms with a view, 765 will go on sale, including suites, one, two and three bedroom apartments, and three-bedroom duplex penthouses, costing between £595,000 and £3m. Inside, there'll be designer kitchens with breakfast bars, boutique hotel-style bathrooms, walk-in wardrobes and private roof terraces.

Up on the 35th floor, residents can use the spa, swimming pool with infinity edge, Jacuzzi, fitness suite and gym, while they'll also be able to kick back in a club room with cocktail bar, cinema room and community area.

Chinese developer Greenland Group is building the £800m project next to Canary Wharf by 2020, expecting it to attract investors and buyers from the UK and overseas, despite concerns that there's a glut of homes in parts of the capital, with some London house prices slumping following the Brexit vote.

Home to a golfer with a big drive

ARMCHAIR golfers are readying themselves for the excitement and sporting rivalry of the Ryder Cup which tees off later this month.

Americans, including Tiger Woods and Phil Mickelson, will take on their European counterparts, headed by captain Darren Clarke, in a bid to regain the trophy.

They'll be especially keen to conquer, as Europe won for the third successive time at the last biennial clash at Gleneagles in 2014.

Refreshingly, in a sport that's known for its big money prizes, the high-profile Ryder Cup – named after English businessman Samuel Ryder who donated the trophy – is played only for honour as the players won't get a penny in prize money.

Italian golfer Francesco Molinari helped secure one of the recent European wins in 2012 when he halved with Tiger Woods the last singles match on the final day.

The half-point meant Europe won the cup outright.

He was also on the victorious Ryder Cup teams in 2010 and is widely regarded as Italy's best golfer – although like Rory McIlroy he was one of the many who dropped out of the Olympics – and didn't make the cut for this year's tournament on 27 September in Chaska, Minnesota.

Molinari has had a house in London for years but is selling this wide fronted four-bedroom contemporary pad in Chelsea for £3.25m. Set over three floors, it's been completely rebuilt, with a master bedroom suite on the top floor and decked garden accessed from the ground and lower ground floors.

Somewhere to let off steam?

RAILWAY enthusiast and Thomas the Tank Engine author the Reverend W. Awdry was inspired to write about his famous locomotives while lying in bed as a child.

He would hear steam engines powering up the hill at a nearby tunnel from his bedroom at night while growing up at Journey's End during the 1920s. They became stories which Awdry later told to his son Christopher when he was ill with measles and Awdry later went on to write his first book, set on the fictional island of Sodor, in 1945.

Cheeky Thomas has become a British icon for generations of youngsters, who still love the books about derailments and disasters – often brought about by an engine's arrogance, stubbornness, jealousy or ambition.

But in recent years some parents have taken exception to Thomas, branding the books a bad example to youngsters because they make analogies between the Rev's Christian faith; the engines always pay the price if they go off the rails.

Despite this, Thomas is a literary and merchandising phenomenon worth millions which has spawned films, toys, games and clothes and is currently watched by youngsters as Thomas & Friends on TV.

His former home, now named Lorne House in Box, Wiltshire, is run as a boutique bed and breakfast, attracting Thomas-loving visitors from around the world.

It's for sale at £1m with a plaque outside commemorating Rev Awdry's time there from 1920 to 1928. The six bedrooms all have en-suite wet rooms, while there are five reception rooms and a sizeable garden.

By: Chris Russon

HYUNDAI has taken the wraps off its new i30 hatchback describing it as the new people's car.

Designed, built and tested in Europe, the third generation i30 will be on sale in Britain next spring.

It will make its public debut at the Paris Motor Show later this month.

Speaking at the reveal of the new model at Hyundai's European headquarters in Frankfurt the Korean car maker's chief designer Peter Schreyer described the new i30 as a car which combined practicality with excitement.

The i30's sleek design includes a new look front which will become a feature of all Hyundais in the future.

A larger grille with a more upright stance and sculpted body lines flowing into the side panels are standout characteristics.

A new 1.4-litre turbo petrol engine will be joining the line up and with an output of 140ps it delivers healthy performance statistics of 0 to 60 in less than nine seconds.

The new engine will sit alongside a 1.0-litre three-cylinder unit developing 120ps while diesels – which will be as economical as 84mpg with emissions as low as 89g/km – will use Hyundai's current 1.6-litre engine in the states of tune developing between 95 and 136ps.

As well as six speed manual transmission the latest i30 will be available with Hyundai's new seven-speed DCT semi-automatic box.

Onboard connectivity includes Apple CarPlay as well as Android Auto and the dash is centred on an eight-inch high definition touchscreen display.

"We thought about the people who would drive it," said Mr Schreyer, adding that connectivity for all the family now had to be a major factor in car design.

Wireless phone charging will also be available and the new i30 has a full suite of automated driving features such as autonomous emergency braking, pedestrian detection, automatic cruise control, lane departure warnings and a driver fatigue monitor.

The car sits on a new chassis and is said to be some 10 per cent lighter than the current i30 but 20 per cent more rigid – a feature which will improve handling as well as making it more sturdy.

Changes have also been made to the steering and the suspension and the car has been honed over more than 5,000 miles around Hyundai's test facility at the Nürburgring in Germany where it has completed more than 480 laps of fine tuning.

Inside, the trim and finish has been refined and the dashboard smartened up with fewer controls. Overall dimensions inside and out are similar to the current model although the new version is slightly larger.

Boot space is also up a fraction to 395 litres, extending to 1,309 litres with the rear seats folded.

Like its predecessors the new i30 will be built at Hyundai's European factory in the Czech Republic where it has been produced since 2007 notching up more than 800,000 sales, more than 110,000 of which have been in Britain making it Hyundai's second most popular model after the i10 city car – itself due to be shown at Paris in a new guise.

Initially the new i30 will be available as a five door family sized hatch to rival the likes of the Ford Focus and the Vauxhall Astra but Hyundai is already hinting that the range will be extended to include more variants such as a sporty coupe, an estate and a medium-sized MPV cum SUV crossover.

Volkswagen Golf 2.0 GTD Estate

By: Jon Smith

IT'S unlikely to have the neighbours' curtains twitching for a sneak view - but the Volkswagen Golf Estate is the archetypal family transport that puts practicality and sensibility at the top of the list.

A boxy shape, straight lines and an upright stance are the styling cues here.

But the GTD version has a little secret. Beneath the innocuous bonnet is a punchy 2.0-litre turbo diesel that pumps out a useful 181bhp – sufficient to put a smile on drivers more accustomed to warm hatches or sports saloons.

With lowered suspension, tweaked braking system and oodles of torque, the GTD puts back the fun in family motoring without penalising either economy or carrying capacity.

Despite being capable of despatching the 0-62mph sprint in an eager sub-eight seconds and topping out at 142mph, it will happily return a regular 50mpg on commuter runs.

The turbo diesel packs a generous 280lb/ft of torque which means mid range acceleration is of the thump-in-the-back variety.

Steering is direct and relatively high geared relaying decent road-feel back to the helm. With a relatively heavy front end, it doesn't feel quite as nimble as some petrol models, but there's a reassuringly solid feel about the Golf which holds its own appeal.

Engine noise is well suppressed – better in fact than other VW Group models that use the same unit. There's little need to use high revs because of the ample torque, which helps make it a particularly relaxing car on long journeys.

The six-speed DSG automatic gearbox fitted to the test car is the icing on the cake. Standard fitting is a six-speed manual gearbox.

The twin clutch system – an extra £1,400 - is fast and smooth with imperceptible changes. There's a slight penalty on economy and CO2 emissions but I reckon it is outweighed by ease of driving. If you want greater control, there's a set of paddles to play with on the steering wheel.

The cabin design of the Estate faithfully follows that of the Golf hatch – sensible, solid and smart. The GTD gets a few nice touches of flair such as the traditional tartan trimmed seats and leather-covered steering wheel.

When it comes to luggage space, it's up there with the best – only the cavernous Skoda Octavia estate beats it. With rear seats in place there's 605litres of cargo room.

Fold them down and this grows to 1,620 litres. Rear seat backs are split 60-40 and the boot floor is height adjustable with split portions to help contain any loose shopping.

The standard 18-inch alloy wheels play their part in giving the GTD good handling ability without impairing the ride quality. Larger 19-inch wheels are an option.

There's little visually to give away the sporty nature of the GTD... just some subtle badging, bigger wheels and lower ride height...which is exactly the way most buyers probably prefer it.

LOWEST MILEAGE MG IN THE WORLD? BY: DAVID WHINYATES

A 2004 MG ZT 1.8 Turbo, with an unbelievable three miles on the clock is set to go under the hammer at a classic car auction later this month. The car is exactly as it left the factory and its owner, who bought it for half price following the collapse of MG Rover, believes that it's the best condition and lowest mileage MG Rover in the world. It will be auctioned at Classic Car Auction's sale on September 24th at the Warwickshire Exhibition Centre where it is expected to fetch between £8,500 and £10,500.

The current and only owner purchased the car from a Derby based dealer who was selling off the cars in 2005. It was then delivered to his farm just outside Silverstone race circuit with only one mile on the clock. The car was immediately placed into storage, initially in a heated garage, subsequently in a Carcoon and latterly in a Car Bag. Amazingly, the owner has driven the car just two miles along the driveway, meaning the mileage now reads only three miles. Finished in British Racing Green, it is in immaculate condition and exactly as it left the Longbridge factory. It still has the original ContiSport tyres and even the same fuel that was put in the tank all those years ago. The 1.8 litre turbocharged Rover K-Series engine is gleaming. The high spec interior, so well preserved there's still a new car smell, features half leather seats, green alcantara door lining, air conditioning and CD player

RETRO SEVEN REVIVES SWINGING SIXTIES

BY: DAVID WHINYATES

THE Swinging Sixties are being brought back to life by Caterham in the shape of a new throw-back variant of its iconic Seven which was originally on the drawing board in the mid-60's but never launched.

This time-capsule car has been brought to life as the Caterham Seven Sprint and is designed to delight Seven purists with retro detailing and a host of nostalgia-soaked features, including a choice of six paint colours that were original British manufacturer colours available in 1966/67. Many of the new model's features hark back to the legendary Colin Chapman's original Lotus 7 – the forerunner of today's Caterham Seven – including a powder-coated grey chassis which is period-accurate for a Series 2 Lotus 7. The suspension and rollover bar are also reminiscent of Colin Chapman's original while the flared front wings, polished exhaust silencer and uniquely retro-styled, individual rear lights all hark back to the early days of the Seven. The retro feel continues in the cockpit with a wooden-rimmed sports steering wheel and dashboard in wood effect plus interior panels and upholstery hand-stitched and finished in striking scarlet red. Priced at £27,995, however, the Sprint has a very 21st century price tag even though there are very few concessions to modern life, the main one being the three-spot 80hp Suzuki engine which was originally installed in Caterham's entry-level Seven 160 model.

The launch of the Sprint heralds the start of Caterham's '60 years of the Seven' celebrations, which will culminate with a spectacular festival next summer. To reflect the anniversary further, only 60 of the factory-built Sprints will be destined for the UK and European markets. Says Caterham Cars CEO, Graham Macdonald: "We have always prided ourselves on continually developing the Seven during the 44 years we have been custodian of the model." "But we never wished to dismiss our heritage either and I know there are plenty of Seven purists and aficionados out there who will really appreciate the level of detail we've gone to with the Sprint to resurrect the spirit of those early cars." "It's a car that has been built today, with all the benefits that modern engineering brings with it, but the essence of the swinging '60s and is the perfect precursor to our 60th-anniversary celebration in 2017."

VOLKSWAGEN UP!S THE ELECTRO ANTE BY: DAVID WHINYATES

ALL-electric motoring is now available for little more than £20k with the arrival of the electrically-powered version of Volkswagen's up! city car. With its 82 PS electric motor the e-up! boasts a peak torque figure of 210 Nm, equating to a 0-62 mph time of 12.4 seconds and a top speed of 80 mph with a maximum range of around 93 miles between charges. Power is provided by a lithium-ion battery pack located within the car's floor mated to a single-speed gearbox. The battery weighs 230 kg but, despite this, the e-up! still weighs less than its internal combustion-engined sibling, tipping the scales at 1,139 kg thanks to extensive weight-saving measures. The necessary variety of charging cables includes a fast charge connection which allows for up to 80 per cent of the battery's capacity to be replenished in just 30 minutes. Meanwhile, a full charge from a standard household plug takes nine hours. Customers can purchase an optional wall box for home garage use, which provides a 3.6 kW supply and can recharge a battery in six hours. The e-up! comes with an extensive line-up of standard equipment including electronic air conditioning, cruise control, parking sensors plus auto activation for the wipers and headlights. Fresh styling features for the five-door electric version include beefier front bumpers which house LED running lights and a more angular back bumper which includes a prominent diffuser panel alongside a sharper tail light design. Like its conventionally-powered stablemate the e-up! features an innovative smartphone docking station which enables the driver's phone to be turned into the car's infotainment system. The smartphone can be used to select and play music, or as a navigation system. It can even display key systems data and tips from the Volkswagen Think Blue Trainer which coaches a driver in efficient driving techniques. The new e-up! is priced at £20,780 including the Government Plug-in Car Grant of £4,500. Deliveries are expected to begin in October. Alternatively it's available from £275 per month on a Personal Contract Purchase (PCP) scheme, with a £900 deposit contribution. Volkswagen says that together with the all-electric e-Golf and hybrid versions of the Golf and Passat, the arrival of the e-up! represents the start of a significant acceleration toward electro-mobility for the German company with 30 more electric or plug-in hybrid models due to be launched by 2025.

MORE CIVIC DUTIES FOR SWINDON

BY: DAVID WHINYATES

THE latest Honda Civic Hatchback will make its global motor show debut at the Paris Motor Show in late September and provide a significant boost for the company's plant at Swindon where it will be built for worldwide distribution. It's the tenth edition of Honda's top-selling model and the company says it has undertaken the most comprehensive research and development programme in its history before putting the car into production. Set to go on sale across Europe early next year, it will be showcased alongside the latest incarnation of the Turkish-built Civic saloon. Honda is keeping full details quiet until the car is revealed and has so far only released a teaser picture of the car's rear end. Philip Crossman, managing director at Honda UK, says: "... the introduction of the new Civic heralds a new era for the plant in Swindon, as it will become the global manufacturing hub for the British-built Civic hatchback, and we are in a fantastic position going forward."

X MARKS THE SPOT FOR NEW MOKKA BY: DAVID WHINYATES

THE SUCCESS of Vauxhall's Mokka compact SUV may well have surprised many – possibly including its makers – and now there's a new model which the company hopes will further increase its popularity to British buyers. Designated the Mokka X, it's the first Vauxhall to introduce the "X" segment identifier which will also be used on future Vauxhall SUV and crossover vehicles. It will arrive in showrooms from October following its debut at the Geneva Motor Show later this month with prices from £17,590 and diesel models starting from £19,515. The Mokka has proven to be a huge success for Vauxhall since its introduction in 2013, surpassing 120,000 sales in the UK since its launch, and is currently number one in its segment. The Mokka X has been given a bold new look by a design team led by Brit Mark Adams with a more solid and muscular stance. On the inside, there's a completely new dashboard inspired by the new Astra. The centre stack has been redeveloped completely around the seven- and eight-inch touchscreens of the new generation infotainment systems. Now with fewer buttons, it has many functions that are accessible via the touchscreen. The new Mokka X introduces a new powertrain to the segment, adding the 1.4-litre Direct Injection Turbo (152PS) petrol unit to the range, in addition to the much-lauded 1.6-litre diesel engine introduced last year. The 1.4-litre Turbo is available with manual or six-speed automatic transmission, as well as adaptive all-wheel drive and start/stop. The petrol engine can achieve up to 47.1mpg combined and CO2 emissions of 140g/km.

High tech features will include LED Adaptive Forward Lighting (AFL) headlamps which adapts the headlights' lighting patterns automatically to the driving situation to give the best possible light performance without dazzling other road users. It features nine different functions, with the new LED system replacing the previous BiXenon AFL. The new Mokka X will be available with the personal connectivity and service assistant, OnStar, from launch. The system offers customers a broad range of safety and comfort services, including access to a trained advisor 24/7, 365 days a year. It also turns the Mokka X into a 4G mobile Wi-Fi hotspot, allowing up to seven devices, from smartphones to tablets, to be connected simultaneously. In addition, two versions of the new generation IntelliLink infotainment system will make their debut in the Mokka X bringing the world of smartphones to the car via both Apple CarPlay and Android Auto phone projection.

PEUGEOT'S HIGH-TECH SUV REVEALED

BY: DAVID WHINYATES

THE SUV onslaught on Europe's roads will gather pace next year with the arrival of the all-new PEUGEOT 5008. With seven seats, its makers claim that the new 5008 is the first SUV to offer modularity on a par with that of the best people-carriers. A range of powerful and efficient petrol and diesel engines and trim levels – including sporty GT Line and GT versions – will be available when it goes on sale next Spring. Features will include Peugeot's i-Cockpit with its compact steering wheel, a large 8 inch touchscreen dashboard and a 12.3 inch high-resolution digital head-up display. The French maker is hoping to entice buyers with a vast range of optional luxury and high-tech features including a multipoint massage system for the front seats, FOCA® Premium Hi-Fi system, large panoramic opening glass roof and a 3D connected navigation system with TomTom® Traffic. Cutting-edge Advanced Driver Assistance Systems will also be available with an arsenal of safety features including Advanced Grip Control with Hill Assist Descent Control (HADC), Automatic Emergency Braking System (AEB), Distance Alert, Active Lane Keeping Assistance (LKA), Driver attention warning, Smart Beam Assistance, Speed sign recognition and speed suggestion, Adaptive cruise control with stop feature on automatic gearbox versions, Active blind spot monitoring, Park Assist and Visio Park (360° vision). A variety of seating configurations will cater for a wide range of needs with three separate, folding seats in the second row, each fully adjustable, plus two removable, separate, folding seats in the third row. In addition Peugeot claims that the 5008 will have the biggest boot capacity in its class with 1060 litres of available space. In addition the 5008 can be specified with a foldable front passenger seat to allow owners to transport especially long loads up to 3.20m and a practical hands-free, motorised tailgate. And for those who want to leave the car behind and go looking for two wheeled adventure the 5008 provides an innovative mobility solution with an optional fitting which has been specially designed to integrate an electrically assisted e-Kick folding scooter or e-Bike eF01, a new electrically assisted portable bicycle, in the load area. The 5008 is due to be unveiled at the Paris Motor Show later this month.

Going for golden double

BY CIARAN THOMAS

sport@onemk.co.uk

RUNNER Libby Clegg and her Milton Keynes' guide Chris Clarke were one race away from making it a golden double at the Paralympics in Rio, after qualifying for last night's T11 200m final.

Clarke guided Clegg, who is visually impaired, to the T11 100m gold medal on Friday night, and the pair eased into the final of the 200m on Monday night as she comfortably won her semi-final.

She faces tough competition for the gold from Brazilian Terezinha Guilhermina, who won a tightly contested semi-final in a time of 24:86, quicker than Clegg's 25:20.

However the Brit was able to ease up over the line with victory already assured, and holds the world record in the event, a time of 24:44 set alongside Clarke in London in July.

The Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club athlete has represented Great Britain himself, part of the bronze medal winning 4x400m relay at the World Indoor Championships in 2010. He started working as Clegg's guide runner in February.

The pair secured the 100m gold in dramatic fashion on Friday night, initially disqualified from the semi-final when Clarke was adjudged to have led Clegg, they were reinstated and took the title.

Now they are on the verge of a double gold, and Clarke has backed Clegg to break her own world record in the final. "Should make for a good and exciting race," he told Channel 4 after the semi-final. "Terezinha ran well so looking forward to it, but think you [Clegg] can break the world record."

Clegg beat Terezinha to the 100m title, and coming up against a home favourite in Rio, she is expecting a great atmosphere.

"It's going to be interesting, obviously the 100m was a fantastic race and the crowd were absolutely amazing so hoping for that again," she said.

Also in action in Rio on Monday night was Simon Munn. The 48-year-old from Milton Keynes is at his seventh Paralympics as a member of the GB Wheelchair Basketball squad. They lost their final pool stage match, 65-48 to USA, but still qualified for the quarter-final, with a tie against Australia scheduled for tomorrow.

ATHLETICS

Club's women top league for second year

MARSHALL Milton Keynes Athletics Club's (MMKAC) women won the Eastern Masters League Final for a second successive year, beating Fairlands Valley Spartans at Bedford.

The event went right down to the wire, as MMKAC trailed the Stevenage club by three points going into the final two relays, but the youngest F35 age group won their race to level the scores ahead of the final race.

The F50 ladies finished second in their relay, but crucially ahead of Fairlands in third to take overall victory and defend the title by a single point, 226 to 225.

The team of 11 women included four in the F35 group, with Corinne Nurse the team's top performer with victories in the 400m hurdles, the 800m and the high jump.

Christina Odunewo was victorious in the 100m and the shot, while Emma Beales came out on top in the discus. In the F50 category, Jeanette Lawrence won the hammer, while Jan Hardcastle proved the all-rounder of the squad, competing in six different events and taking second in the triple jump, high jump and the 800m.

It was a less successful day for the men as they were forced to field a depleted squad and finished seventh. It was their lowest position since the competition began 20 years ago.

ICE HOCKEY

Winning start as Lightning sting the Bees

MILTON Keynes Lightning got their English Premier League campaign off to the perfect start with back to back victories over the opening weekend.

Bobby Chamberlain's dramatic overtime winner saw Lightning edge past Guildford Flames 5-4 on Sunday, after Bracknell Bees were beaten 4-1 at MK Arena on Saturday.

After Saturday's win, it looked like a repeat was on the cards on Sunday, as Lightning built a 4-1 lead, only for the hosts to level at 4-4, but Chamberlain struck in overtime to seal the win.

It was a dominant start to the new campaign for Lightning, and only the second time in six seasons they have completed a four point weekend, as new signings, goaltender Premzy Odobny and Milan Barayk impressed, while Frankie Bakrluk was on target three times over the weekend.

Two of those came in Saturday's opening victory, as Lightning proved too strong for Bracknell.

The momentum from the victory carried on at Guildford 24 hours later, and just as on Saturday it was Bakrluk who opened the scoring on six minutes, but Flames hit back and levelled before the end of the first period through Jez Lundin.

Lightning enjoyed the better of the second period, with 13 shots, but they couldn't retake the lead.

The goal finally came four minutes into the third period as Chamberlain struck and less than two minutes later Craig Scott added the third.

When Hook put in the fourth, it looked like another comfortable win, but Flames staged a thrilling comeback.

A penalty shot saw Tom Duggen start the recovery before the gap was cut to one with four minutes left.

With only seconds remaining, the home goaltender was replaced by an extra skater, and the move paid dividends as with only nine seconds on the clock Duggen levelled.

Lightning wouldn't be denied however and 64 seconds into overtime, Chamberlain scored the winning goal.

The league action returns to the MK Arena on Saturday as Lightning host Peterborough Phantoms.

Bolton open the goal against Dons

Dons must 'banish ghost' to get 'better and better'

BY CIARAN THOMAS
 sport@onemk.co.uk

KARL Robinson said MK Dons will get better, as he continues to see the shoots of improvement after what he described as a slow burner of a season so far.

Robinson's side sit 15th in League One, having taken a single point from their last three games, in Saturday's 1-1 draw at Bolton, which followed defeats to Peterborough and Northampton.

Oxford United are the visitors to stadiummk on Saturday, riding high on the momentum of promotion last year, and a derby victory against Swindon last time out.

"I'm seeing signs every week, results haven't been what we'd want them to be and there's been criticism labelled at us," Robinson said. "I've said it'll be a slow burner this year, we're in a massive transition but it will come, 100 per cent."

"We've got tremendous belief in what we're doing and I'm very excited, the longer the season goes on we'll get better and better and better, this team will grow as a group."

"Our performance on Saturday and the second half against Northampton, we deserved more than only getting one point.

"They [Oxford] will be confident, they only got promoted last season and they've started this season wonderfully well so we're under no illusions of how difficult the games going to be. Michael Appleton has done a fantastic job there, coming off the back of a big derby win, their biggest game of the season but they'll see this as another big game and another challenge."

Dons have yet to win at stadiummk this season, with only one win at home since January, a run Robinson is keen to end.

"I think it's always important to get any result at home because this place could be rocking, we know one win in 14 at home it's not great but I've not had my strongest team."

"We've got the best stadium in the league and we want the best team in the best stadium and this team is slowly but surely getting there. We're really looking forward to Saturday and hopefully we can banish the ghost of recent weeks and if we can get that one win we'll go on a run and this will be fortress once again."

Stage glory for rider Stannard in Tour of Britain

MILTON Keynes cyclist Ian Stannard tasted stage glory at last week's Tour of Britain, as the Team Sky rider was victorious in the third of the nine stage race.

The tour, which attracts a world-class field, saw Britain's Stephen Cummings take the overall crown, with Stannard part of Team Sky that finished as the leading team.

The tour also featured Bradwell Abbey based Madison-Genesis team, who finished 14th in the team classification. For the most part Stannard, a former Team MK rider, played a supporting role, finishing 59th overall, but grabbed his chance on the 179km stage three between Congleton and Knutsford.

Stannard joined an early breakaway led by Madison's Matt Cronshaw, and together with fellow Brits Graham Briggs and Kristian House, the quartet were soon out of sight. Cronshaw was unable to keep up with the pace and fell away with 70km remaining but the trio had pulled a gap that couldn't be closed.

They remained together until Stannard made the decisive break with 40km to go, crossing the line 1:46 ahead of the duo, and a full six minutes before the main bunch.

"I was motivated for this stage because it was pretty much on home roads," said Stannard, who trains in the area. "I was keen to get away, it's always nice to win from a breakaway and go solo too, I really enjoyed it today, it is special to be racing at home."

After his stage win, Stannard moved into a supporting role, helping fellow Team Sky riders Nicolas Roche and Ben Swift in their bid for the overall win. Irishman Roche finished sixth behind Cummings.

Madison-Genesis enjoyed a competitive week, regularly featuring in the breakaways, with Erik Rowsell their best placed rider in 15th, their best finish for three years.
